Just One Piece of Chicken By Clifton Angel

The story is told of an old governor of Massachusetts that was so busy "chasing votes" one day that he missed lunch. As he went along his way in the late afternoon, he happened upon a community barbecue. He entered the serving line and held out his plate to the woman serving the chicken. She placed a piece on his plate, and in urgent kindness he asked, "Excuse me, could I have another piece of chicken?" She replied, "Sorry. I was instructed to give one piece to each person." He plead with a disgruntled face, "But I'm starving," to which she responded, "I'm sorry—one piece per person." As the story goes, he was a very modest man, but on this occasion, he thought he might try to sway the woman. "Do you know who I am?" he asked firmly. "I am the governor of this state." "Do you know who I am?" the woman replied. "I'm the lady in charge of the chicken."

Authority—it is so important for this subject to be understood and respected. In order to have true happiness, joy, and peace, one must recognize the authorities in his life and then obey them, with God as his ultimate authority. It needs to be respected in our homes, in our jobs, in our communities, in our state, in our nation, in the world. If we read our Bibles, we will understand that God has all authority. He has authority over everything that is physical and spiritual. Might I suggest that the very word "God" denotes that authority. I've mentioned before that "God" is not His name; it is His nature. He is above all else. So, if He is in authority, where do we find the guidelines for our lives? Generally, authorities must disclose in some fashion their guidelines for those under them. For example, an employer in authority over his employees must disclose guidelines for them to follow. This requires effort on the part of the employee if he is to do his job properly. Is it not logical that our loving God would disclose such guidelines for our lives? He has. "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be complete, thoroughly furnished unto all good works" (2 Timothy 3:16–17). God's Word must guide our steps (Jeremiah 10:23). It must be the light to our path (Psalm 119:105). It is complete (Jude 3; 2 Peter 1:3) and it makes us complete (2 Timothy 3:16–17). Is the Bible the authority for your everyday decisions? For how you worship? For how you are saved? For how you direct your marriage? For how you rear your children? For how you treat those around you? Who or what is your authority? To God be the glory!
